Does your organization have a domain?

If you have a website, you have a domain. It's the part of your URL after the 'www.' and the part of your email address after the '@'.

If you add your domain now, we'll help you set up usernames and email addresses for people so they can use Microsoft 365 with your domain. If people are already using your domain for email, make sure to set all of them up here so they don't lose access.

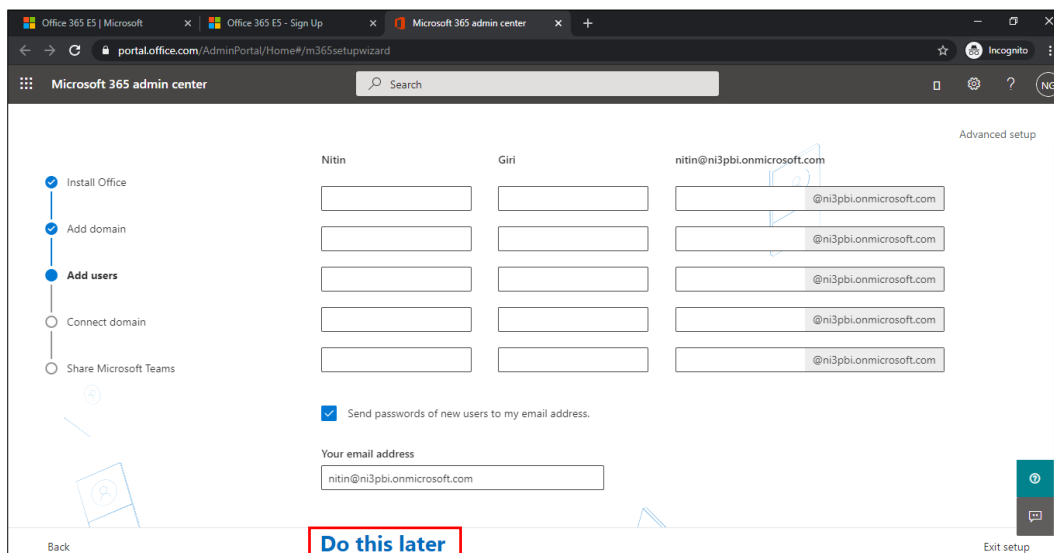

Use ni3pbi.onmicrosoft.com if you don't have your own domain yet or don't want to add it here.
